SAN FRANCISCO EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEMCODE OF CONDUCT*BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

- 1) As fiduciaries of a public trust, board members are required to discharge their duties with respect to the System solely in the interest of, and for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to, plan members and their beneficiaries. Board members are further expected to discharge their duties with the utmost honesty and integrity.

- 3) The Board is bound by various statutes regarding conflicts of interest, financial disclosure, and prohibited practices including the San Francisco Conflict of Interest Code (San Francisco Campaign and Governmental Conduct Code, Article III, Chapter I) and Ethics Provisions (San Francisco Charter, Appendix C).¹
- 4) In order to facilitate meeting the above standards and statutes, the Retirement Board has established this Code of Conduct to further guide how the Board and individual board members are expected to conduct themselves when discharging their duties.

GUIDELINESGeneral

- 5) Board members agree:
 - a) To demonstrate decorum, honesty, integrity, professionalism and ethical behavior in all aspects of their board duties and in their relations with fellow board members, staff, service providers, and other constituents;

¹ The San Francisco Conflict of Interest Code adopts the State of California's Conflict of Interest Code, Regulation 18730 of the California Fair Political Practices Commission.

- b) To recognize that the Board's role is to focus on administering the statutory provisions of SFERS as established through the political and collective bargaining processes. Board members shall generally refrain from advocating legislative changes unless such changes are cost-neutral or intended to facilitate effective administration of SFERS.
- c) To actively prepare for each meeting by thoroughly reading all meeting materials in advance;
- d) To attend and participate in all board meetings, unless unable to do so for reasons that are beyond their control;
- e) To pay undivided attention and to refrain from using electronic communication devices during board and committee meetings; and
- f) To recognize that individual trustees and management have various commitments on their time, and that the business of the Board must therefore be carried out in the most efficient manner possible, consistent with the Board's and management's fiduciary duties.

- b) To be responsible for building and maintaining relevant knowledge that will facilitate the performance of their duties.²

Board Relations

- 8) Board members agree:

- a) To the extent it is consistent with their fiduciary duties, to abide by, and be respectful of, all decisions of the Board, even if they may not have supported or voted in favor of the decisions during Board deliberations; and

² Relevant areas of pension-related knowledge are set out in the Board Education Policy

- b) To continually work to promote a necessary degree of cohesion among board members, staff, and service providers for the benefit of the System, its members and beneficiaries.

Communication

9) Board members agree:

- a) To communicate in a respectful, straightforward, honest and constructive manner during all meetings of the Board and its committees;
- b) To refrain in any way from counseling, advising, or educating plan members or beneficiaries with regard to the technical provisions of their benefit entitlements or options;³
- c) To comply with board resolution 50 concerning record and information requests, which provides, among other things, that board members may request information in public session or during regular business hours and shall not require work assignments of staff without prior approval by the Board;
- d) To refrain from disclosing any non-public information concerning the property, operations, policies, affairs, or interests of the Board or the System to which board members are privy by virtue of their position.

10) In communicating with external parties, board members agree:

- b) To clearly and respectfully indicate when they are communicating a personal position; and

³ Board members will instead direct plan members or beneficiaries to the Executive Director or Deputy Director for resolution of any queries or concerns. Staff will, in turn, inform the board member in question of when and how the issue was resolved.

- c) To inform the President and Executive Director in a timely fashion of any significant communications they have had with external parties.

ENFORCEMENT PROVISIONS

- 11) The President, in presiding over meetings of the Board, will enforce and attempt to rectify any breaches of this Code that may occur during meetings of the Board. Similarly, committee chairs will enforce and attempt to rectify any breaches that may occur in the course of a meeting of a committee of the Board.

SAN FRANCISCO EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM
GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES OF THE RETIREMENT BOARD

1. It is paramount that Board members carry out their duties in a manner consistent with the highest standards of ethics, integrity, and fiduciary duty.
2. Prudence is process.
3. Board and staff roles must be clear and distinct from one another; the Board cannot manage the System and oversee the System at the same time.
4. The Board must generally attempt to influence the organization through the setting, monitoring, and refinement of board policy.
5. The Board will focus its attention and effort on those tasks that have the biggest potential impact on the success of the System.
6. A linear organizational structure best supports accountability and excellence in the governance and administration of the System.
7. The Board itself is best positioned to hold itself and its members accountable for meeting high standards of fiduciary excellence.
8. To be effective, the Board must work towards developing its own pension knowledge.
9. The Board's role extends equally to both investments and benefit administration.
10. The governance of the System will be treated as an important and distinct function.
11. The Board's governance policies will be living documents.
12. With respect to the System, Board members do not have power as individuals, but only as part of the Board as a whole.
